The citizens of Whitfield county met at Dalton last Saturday, and elected, without a dissenting voice, Cd. J. E. Shu-mate, Maj. Joseph Guthrid, Cd. R. J. McCamy and T. J. Eason, Esq., delegates to represent the county in the gressional Convention, to be held at Cal oun, September 2nd. The following esolution, with others, was unanim y adopted.

Resolved, That while the Democrati party of this county will yield a willing support to any one of the distinguished centlemen now prominently before the people, and who may be nominated by the approaching Convention, yet Senato Trammell is the emphatic choice of the Democrats of this county, and should he be honored with the nomination he will rec ve their enthusiastic support. If every county in the hotly-contested

Seventh District will act in accordance with this resolution, all will be well. Whitfield stands bravely and squarely up to its first choice; but if the convention should select another standard-bearer, they declare that they will give him an unwavering and hearty support. We believe in earnest contests in the primary nectings; they result in better no tions, and no honorable man, no good Democrat will for a moment hesitate to give the candidate of his party a full and cordial support, however earnestly he may have advocated the claims and qualifications of other aspirants before the people. The Address of the Executive Con mittee.

A CONSIDERABLE shipment of Boi D'Arc or Osage Orange timber has just been made from Denison, Texas, to a leading New York carriage manufactory. The wood is heavy, strong, durable, and one of the most solid in the world. It grows n almost unlimited quantities in Northern Texas, where anticipations of an extensive trade in this timber are now freely indulged in. HON, ALEX. H. STEPHENS.

Chronicle and Sentine emen—I have read the correspon-between some of the leading citi-of our Congressional District and Hon. A. H. Stephens with deep interest I say our District, for I have not relin ed my residence at Augusta, thoug I have been absent for some months, as may be from time to time. We can al may be from time to time. We can all appreciate the sensibility that prompted Mr. Stephens to decline to be a candidate for re-election to Congress. In most cases the hability actually to occupy a seat in the House would be a serious objection to a representative of the people. But in the case of Mr. Stephens it seems to me there are considerations that outweigh that objection. We may hope for such improvement in his health as may such improvement in his health as may resume his seat at the opening of the next session. But were it even certain that he could not actually sit in the House, still I should wish to see him re-elected.

Upon his late election he proceeded to Upon ms late election he proceeded to Washington City and took his seat in the House of Representatives. His presence shed a lustre upon that body, and recalled the best days of the Republic.

His great speech on the subject of "Civil Rights" was worthy of him in his pulmiest days. It is absolutely manager or palmiest days. It is absolutely unanswer able. It exhibited a profound knowlege of the structure of the Government. It demonstrated that Congress has no juris-diction over the subject. That argument will stand; no assault can shake it. It is like a house built on a rock, for it rests on the Constitution. If Mr. Stephens had accomplished nothing but that, his fame as statesman would be safe. But his whole career, illustrious and useful, entitles him to the highest consideration. Let him die as he has lived, in the public service. Let the sunset glory of his life gild a horizon as wide as the whole country. Chatham was borne into the country. Chatham was borne into the House of Lords when too feeble to sit upright in the midst of his peers. Calhoun was still the Senator of South Carolina, was sin the Senator of South Caronna, though he was not strong enough to stand up in the Senate Chamber, and handed his written speech to Mason, of Virginia, who read it aloud for him. I witnessed the impressive scene. The il-lustrious statesman did not resign his seat, but died in the service of his State. Let the name of Alexander H. Stephens stand upon the roll of Representatives still enjoy the privilege of expressing his views of public questions. His speeches can be read in the House, and the whole ountry will listen to them. I served for years in Congress with Mr stephens. I have known him intimately ever since; and, in making this appeal in his behalf, I am not only prompted by personal regards, but animated by a strong desire to see one continued in the public service whose whole life has been consecrated to his country. I stood with him under the Whig banner when it was first lifted up, and heard his clarion oice ring out in defense of the princi ples of that great party. Now, that he is broken by the storms of State, I wish his last appeals in behalf of constitutional liberty to be heard by the whole country intil the day of his death. I trust that

A Terrible Calamity-Lives Lost. [By Telegraph to the Constitution.] ECHERA, NEVADA, July 27.—One of the direst calamities by flood since the settlement of Nevada, occurred at 3 o'clock Friday morning. Rain fell with unprecedented violence, and about midday the clouds burst upon the lofty range of mountains bordering the canon on which the town is situated. The water came down in huge streams, but did lit-tle damage, and the excitement soon ceased; but scarcely had the people returned to their homes, when the rain again began to descend with such fury as is seldom witnessed in any country. In ten minutes the eastern portion of the town was flooded with water, yet the peo-ple felt safe in their houses. Suddenly a perfect ocean of water came thundering down the canons, carrying away creating floatable, and tearing up the very ground. Houses, and everything the way of the flood went crashing to destruction. By the use of ropes many lives were saved, but before this was thought of many perished. Struggling human beings could be seen among the debris floating down the stream, and be-yond the reach of assistance. Nearly all the women and children were saved, and several men lost their lives in trying to save the lives of others. Among the bodies recovered were three children. It is difficult to estimate the loss of life and property. The scene is now one of utter desolation and despair. Among the buildings lost was Eureka Hall, one of

PITTSBURG, PA., July 27.—Over one hundred and fifty lives have been lost by the flood. Of those lost 70 bodies have been recovered. About one hundred persons were drowned at Ratcher's Run, in Alleghany county. In Saw Mill Run district seven have been recovered and then are missing. At Wood's Run the ern Pennsylvania, arrived in this city last night. He tells the story of a fearful tragedy that occurred in the wilderness of that region on Sunday night. The trage dy was brought to light by the statement of a gypsy named Christoph Polombo, the truth of which is being investigated. Polombo said in his deposition before Justice Martin, at Mount Pleasant, Pa, that he is a native of Portugal. He deserted from the navy of that country fifteen years ago, and fled to England. There he joined a party of gypsies which were on their way to London, whence they were to proceed to America. In London one of the woman belonging to the band kidnapped a little girl about two years old. The child was dressed in a style which showed that she belonged to parents of wealth and position. Fri Low Critz as:

It is by no means a pleasant task to speak or write of one's self, but there has been so much said and published relative to my candidacy for Congress in this District, that justice to myself and friends démands that my position and views on the subject should be made known, over my own signature. It has been said and published, that I rould be a candidate in any event, reand did what was in my power to main-tain Democratic principles and give suc-cess to Democratic candidates. This was the imputation of being a disorganizer, and it ought to have been something of a guaranty that I was still ready to speak and work for the legitimate nominees of my party. If you so will it, I stand ready to do this, though I may be put aside, and younger men who have certainly done no more than I have, should be selected as your standard bearers. I shall be found opposing party conventions only when their value and fairness are destroyed by the management, trickery and intrigue of unworthy men who seek office through the instrumentality of a packed the imputation of being a disorganizer, and it ought to have been something of a intrigue of unworthy men who seek once through the instrumentality of a packed convention, when they cannot obtain it by fair and legitimate means. Some men seem to think that all the machinery and seem to the see arrangements of these conventions were devised for the especial benefit of aspirants for office, and hence they go industriously to work upon the idea, that if they can so manipulate the selection of delegates as to obtain the nomination, it is all in the proposed wars. It is the interest that delegates as to obtain the nomination, it is all right, whether the people want them or not. Such, fellow citizens, is not my view of the subject. I have all till in the end both the man's arms were ways thought that conventions were origi-nally designed for the benefit of the people, and that they ought to be organized and that they ought to be organized and conducted for the purpose of ascertaining and carrying out the popular will.

When they fail to do this, there is but one remedy snared and uttered guttural noises when left, and that is for the people to repudiage their action, and select officers for themselves. It has also been said and published that I would not be a candidate at all. He says he has had advice from distinguished lawyers on the matter. Frank Moulton, he says, holds some of Receber's letters and in holds some of Beecher's letters, and in fact, holds the key of the position.

There are reports that if Beecher is acquitted, District Attorney Winslow, who is a member of the committee, will at once have Tilton indicted. The Argus publishes an interview with Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton. She says Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton. She says Mrs. Bullard, herself and Mr. Tilton called at Bullard's residence to dinner several years ago. Miss S. B. Anthony

They were re-formers, and he gave them the story as a phase of social life. Mrs. Stanton next phase of social life. Mrs. Stanton next evening told Miss Anthony, and the lat-ter immediately told her she had heard the same story from Mrs. Tilton the same night. They compared notes, and found that by a curious coincidence man and wife had told the same story. It seems that fire leaving Rullard's and reaching that after leaving Bullard's and reaching home, Tilton had some words with his wife, which ended in a quarrel. In the heat of passion, and in Miss Anthony's presence, each confessed having broken the marriage vow. Miss Anthony withdrew to her own room. Shortly after Mrs. Tilton came dashing up stairs, followed by Tilton in a rare. Susan thme lowed by Tilton in a rage. Susan flung open the door, and Mrs. Tilton rushed in. Thedoor was then closed and bolted. The odore then pounded on the outside demanding admittance. Miss Authory demanding admittance. Miss Anthony refused to turn the key. So intense was his sensual passion she feared he might kill his wife. Several times he returned, angrily demanding admittance, saying no one shall stand between me and my wife. Susan B. replied if you enter this room it will be over my dead body. In that room Mrs. Tilton confessed all to Miss Anthony. She told of her own faithlessness; that Mr. Beecher was the cause of her deception, and of her anguish, fell upon the ears of Susan B. Carlton Mansion, Union Point, July 25th, 1874.

Editors Constitution: I am sure that your numerous readers in this section will be glad to learn through your columns that the most extensive preparations are being made here for the proposed re-union, on Thursday and Friday of next week, of the survivors of the gallant old "Third Georgia Regiment."

Commodore George N. Dexter, of Madison, with his accustomed energies, is at work here to-day, and is being ably assisted by Mr. John Henry Carlton, son of Judge L. B. Carlton, of this place, and others, through whose exertions the Fair Grounds have been put in order, and ample arrangements made for the comfort of all who may attend, either as active participants in the re-union, or as interested spectators.

Nor have the laddes been overlooked in the programme, for the social element is to form a prominent feature of the occasion, and bright the lamps will shine o'er brave men and fair women, as they trip the light faminstic toe, either at the king formule or strictly reserved for their accommo-tion, gives universal autistation.

and bright the lamps will shine o'er brave men and fair women, as they trip the light fantastic toe, either at the Fair Grounds or in the public hall of the town. Arrange-ments have been made to entertain the lady visitors, and no efforts will be spared to make the occasion one of deep interest to them. Their heroic sacrifices during the war, and the intimate relations which they hold to many of the services of the her war, and the intimate relations which they hold to many of the survivors of the regi-ment, give them the right to participate in war, and the number relations when they hold to many of the survivors of the regiment, give them the right to participate in the proposed festivities.

On Thursday the members of the regiment will arrive, report to headquarters, hold meetings for private consultation, and arrange plans for a permanent organization. Letters have been received from survivors in all parts of the State, and nearly every one has expressed their purpose to be present. On Friday, Col. Chaiborn Snead, who entered the regiment as a Lieutenant, and was its last commander, will deliver an "Historical Address" and an "Eulogy on Gen. A. R. Wright," the first Colonel of the organization. It is confidently expected that this duty will be discharged in a manner that shall redound to the glory of this gallant corps, and add new laurels to the death-cold brow of the brave commander who so often led it to the conflict, but who now sleeps the "last sleep" in the silence of the grave.

Union Pointis fast becoming an important point for re-unions, conventions and plenies, owing to the rare advantages which it offers for such purposes. It is easy of access from all directions by the Georgia Railroad; its people are extremely cordial and hospitable, and the Fair grounds, beautiful groves and other facilities for enjoyment are readily brought into requisition on such occasions. For this reason, it may be, the various Granges of the Patrons of Husbandry in this vicinity will assemble here on Thursday next in convention, for the purpose of organizing the Greene County Council of the Patrons of Husbandry. As the Grangers are flourishing in this county, and the crop prospects are very good, it is probable that The Beethoven Concert and Hop comes off at Marietta to-night.

Like "Old Probabilities," we may oft foretell approaching storms and calpus by the mere turn of a weather vane.

The sermon was to have been preached by the Rev. Hall, Baptist, but sickness prevented. The Scripture lesson was however read by him, and made a fine impression. The sermon, by Rev. Stacy, Presbyterian, was, although but two days old as we learned, a model for all preachers, short, logical, truthful, eloquent. The choir discoursed much finer music than we have been accustoned to hear in largerities. The opening prayer by Rev. Adams, Presiding Elder of the circuit was one of the best we ever listened to, but the closing prayer, by Rev. Thigpen, Methodist, was announced thus—As King Solomon at the didication of the Temple humbly knelt in prayer to invoke the acceptance and blessing of Deity, so let us reverently bow in imitation of his noble example, and when he had uttered that famous prayer and said, "Now when King Solomon had made an end of praying, the fire came down from heaven and filled the house of the Lord, so that the high priests could not enter therein." Ratteree wants to Give Bond.

James Batteree, who was delivered up in few days since by his grandfather, and whe is charged with the murder of a man named Clifton, made an effort yesterday to give ball. The case was brought before Judge Hopkins on a writ of habeas corpus. The prisoner alleged that there had been no preliminary examination in his case, and that according to the evidence he was not guilty of murder. On account of the absence of several material witnesses, the hearing of the writ has been postponed until 10 a. m., to-day. Colonel A. W. Hammond appeared for the petitioner. EDS. CONSTITUTION:—The commencement exercises of the West Point Female College is now in progress.

After two or three days spent by Professors and pupils in reviewing etc., ander haps as many weeks in preparation, the grand deployeure was opened Sunday 26, by the customary ceremonies of a commencement sermon.

An effort was made yesterday morning to try the Edmondson case before Justice Wm. Butt. This prisoner is charged with assault with intent to murder, committed on Henry Fergerson. On account of the absence of a material witness for the State, the trial was set for next Wednesday at ten o'clock. Messrs. H. C. Glenn and Edward Angler appeared for the State, and Hoke Smith and W. H. Hulsey for the defense.

The condition of the wounded man is steadily improving, although he is by no means able yet to appear and testify in court.

EDMONDSON WANTS A TRIAL.

MORE ILLICIT DISTILLERS. Business in the United States Commissioners Court is still good. Yesterday John Wilson, of Murray county, W. M. Densmore, of Milton county, and D. A COW KILLING CASE. A man named Zeke Townsend was arrested and brought before Justice Butt yesterday on complaint of Mr. Tumlin. The latter charges him with malicious mischief is killing one of his cows. Townsend waived preliminary trial, and gave bond for his appearance before the City Court.

COMMITTED FOR PERJURY. Two colored women, Margaret Clark and Francis Reed, were tried in Justice Walker's Court yesterday for perjury. The prosecutor is John Mathlas, and the alleged perjury was committed in testifying against him about a week ago in a case before the Recorder, whereby Mathlas had to fork over five dollars and costs. The magistrate committed the prisoners in default of bonds of $1,000 each. Gray for the State, Bray for the defense. A WATCH CASE.

Justice Walker spent yesterday afternoon trying a negro girl, named Caroline Peak, upon a charge of stealing a gold watch from a white lady named Mrs. Bealer. The case attracted some attention, and the court-room was well filled with Caroline's friends. The watch was valued at $100. The only witness for the State was Mrs. Bealer, who swore the watch was in the parlor while Caroline was in the house: that she was the Caroline was in the house; that she was the only person who had access to this room and that immediately after she had left the house the watch was missed. No evidence introduced for the defense. Under this showing the court discharged the prisoned Hoke Smith, Esq., represented the defence

"HOLLAND'S SPHINGS."

These springs have a flow of 20,000 galloms per hour. An analysis of the water shows 33 per cent. of magnesia, 15 per cent. of carbonic acid gas, 5 per cent. of chalybeate or rion. Sulphur water can be had every day.

In addition to a table unsurpassed by any hotel in this section, there are a number of amusements for the entertainment of guests.

Music, dancing, ten-pins, croquet, chess, drafts, backgammon and marbles contribute to dispel any ennui that may settle upon visitors.

The Atlanta Cadets.

The election of Capt, John A. Fitten to the office of Major of the Battalion, randered the election of several officers of the Atlanta Cadets necessary. An election was held at their Armory last night under the superintendence of Justice W. M. Butt. The attendance of the Cadets was large, and the contest for several of the positions an exciting one. The candidates were all popular and the race therefore close.

First Lieut. C. W. Henderson was unanimously elected Captain. In response to calls, Captain Henderson made a beautiful and touching speech, paying a heart-warm and glowing compliment to Major Fitten, his predecessor, as his friend and companion from childhood, his classmate at the Georgia Military Institute and his comrade-in-arms. The speech was in Captain Henderson will make a good officer. While a strict disciplinarian, he is courteous and affable, and has the cintire confidence of the command.

The election of Captain Henderson left the First Lieutenancy vacant. Second Lieutenant J. B. Bridges was unanimously chosen. It is no trouble for Joe to speak and, therefore, when loudly called for by his friends, jhe did not fall to respond in his felicitous and taking style.

An election was then held for Second Lieutenant. There were two candidates, W. H. Patterson, the old First Lieutenant, and Orderly Sergeant E. S. McClandless. Both were good officers and desarvedly popular. The race was close, and decided in favor of W. H. Patterson. Many were loath to give up McCandless as Orderly Sergeant, because of his efficiency and soldiery bearing. Lieutenant Patterson made a handsome speech upon being called out.

As stated in Sunday's Constitution, Henry Furgerson was arrested last Friday afternoon by W. E. Warren, Chief of Police of Griffin. Furgerson was arrested for bting drunk and disorderly. At the time no news of the robbery had reached Griffin. Upon searching Furgerson the jewelry was found, and he stated that he had come from Atlanta. Warren then telegraphed here and received an answer directing him to hold Furgerson, and to arrest Henry Thomas and Elijah Bose if he could find them. At an early hour Saturday morning Warren had both of these gentlemen also in the lock-up.

THE REGOVERED PROPERTY.

All of the jewelry recovered so far was found upon Fergurson. Neither of the others had any when they were caught. No money, beyond a few dollars, was found upon any of them. The recovered jewelry consisted of one handsome gold watch, two gold chains, two sets of ear-rings and breastpins, several rings, watch chains, etc. This was yesterday morning shown to Mr. Richter, piece by piece, and he at once identified it as being his property.

The search for the money ($283) and the balance of the jewelry will be vigorously pushed forward. Now that all three of the thieves are in custody it ought not to be a very difficult job to make them tell where it is. These light fingered darkeys will be punished to the full extent of the law.

Considerable interest is being manifested on the tobacco question. Reports from Kentucky, a State producing forty per cent. of the whole tobacco crop, indicate the failure of the crop there. In Virginia and North Carolina not half a crop was planted, and of that planted about one-fourth died. The introduction of fertilizers has stimulated planters to substitute cotton for tobacco in the tobacco growing sections. In consequence of these causes tobacco is advancing. In a sale of tobacco at Danville, Va., a few days since, 33,625 pounds of leaf tobacco, were sold at an average of 30 cents per pound. In this sale fine wrappers sold from 80 cents to $1.42 cents per pound, and lags 46 cents to 48 cents per pound. This

It is strange yet true, that as a rule it is the brightest intellects, the best members of society become addicted to this diseased appetite. A habit which makes them slaves, beclouds their minds, rulus their dispositions, and gives them in their more natural moments a hatred of self as well as a feeling that everybody despises them—to such an extent that society has no charms. But thanks to the Giver of all read this mostly. an extent that society has no charms. But thanks to the Giver of all good, this morbid, terrible habit, and degraded condificion, as well as all of the desire and feeling for opiates in any form is soon removed by this remarkable antidote, entirely so, and the weakened body and mind are invigorated, given renewed health until love and hope take the place of despondency and doubt. Though you may not be afflicted with the habit of using Morphins, Laddaxum, or other forms of Opium, some friend may be, and you know it not, therefore let me ask you, in the name of suffering humanity to pass this on. Carefully laid away With a mother's yearning care, Are toys with which the children played, The clothes they used to wear. With loving, longing heart
Her gaze is backward cast,
As she softly lifts the boot
From the stillness of the past.

She sees a little boy
Thrust out a chubby foot,
And hears his happy laugh and shout
At sight of his first boot;
And, trudging down the road,
Stubbing grass, and leaves and rocts,
She sees again the solid form
Of the little man in boots,
A conqueror of the day,
He made the soft air ring;
Amid the shoeless lads at school
The boy in boots was king.

O, the stillness of the room
Where the children used to play!
O, the silence of the empty house,
Since the children went away!

And is this the mother's life—
The memories her heart doth hold
To bear, and love, and lose," Till all the sweet, sad tale is told A flower pressed to keep All faded still the fadded life

LAND AGENCY. TEXAS

LAND AGENCY!

HAVING spent part of the last three years in Texas, and having been repeatedly solicited by parties owning and controling large tracts of land in that State, I have determined, after thoroughly, investigations of the control of the gaing the whole subject matter, to open a LAND AGENCY to some eligible point in LONE STAR STATE at an early date. With seven years' experience in the REAL ESTATE BUSINESS in all of its details in Georgia, the business will not be new. Parties owning or controling lands in Texas can for the present address me at Rome, Ga. My partner and myself propose to give our attention exclusively to the business in all its details. Bring and conduct suits of ejectment, re-establish titles, sell and convey lands and pay taxes. Best of references given. Correspondence earnestly solicited. Address JOHN T. BURNS & CO., Rome, Ga.
